

INFO 120 : Introduction to Research

Credits 2

An online introduction to college-level research. Students will learn how to develop topics into strong research questions that guide their research. They will also learn how to access, evaluate, and ethically engage a wide variety of information sources (e.g. popular, scholarly, print, and multimedia). Eligibility for ENGL&101 is recommended. This class may include students from multiple sections.