

ENVS& 100 : Survey of Environmental Science

Credits 5

Quarter Offered Fall, Winter, Spring

Scientific approach to understanding nature and scope of contemporary problems in our environment. This class may include students from multiple sections. (Natural Sciences, Elective)

Prerequisites

Eligibility for both ENGL& 101 and MATH 90/91

Course Outcomes

- Use basic principles from biological, physical, and social sciences to explain the nature, causes, and consequences of environmental problems.

- Use critical thinking and quantitative reasoning to analyze environmental problems.

- Support a perspective on environmental problems using science, evidence and reason.