

AOS 117 : Surveys and Data Reports

Credits 2

Quarter Offered Winter

Learn the fundamentals of survey design, distribution, and data collection with common survey tools used by businesses to collect information from a specific population. Students will develop a questionnaire, collect responses, and present results in tables and charts. This class may include students from multiple sections.

Course Outcomes

Develop a survey with various question type such as Likert, open ended, and multiple choice.

Administer a survey to a group.

Collect survey results and present in table and graphical formats.