

Audit

You may, with the consent of the instructor, enroll to audit a course. You are expected to attend classes regularly but you will not take examinations, receive grades, or earn credit. Tuition is the same as that charged for credit.

After the fifth day of instruction an individual who is a Washington State resident, and who has or will have attained 60 years of age by the first day of instruction of the quarter during which enrollment is desired, may enroll for audit in certain courses on a space-available basis. Students enrolling under this waiver shall register for no more than two courses per quarter.

No tuition will be charged, although some fees may be assessed. Written approval of the instructor is required. (WAC 131-28-080).