

BOT 100L: Plants of the Pacific Northwest

Introduction to flowering plants, conifers, ferns, and mosses of the Pacific Northwest, with emphasis on identification, life history, ecological relationships, and distribution. Two Saturday field trips required. (E)

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Describe how plants are classified utilizing general principals of taxonomy.
2. Identify regionally important plants by both common and scientific names.
3. Describe vegetative and reproductive morphology.
4. Differentiate how variation plays a role in plant identification.

Credits: 3

Prerequisites: Eligibility for both ENGL& 101 and MATH 090/091.

Program: Botany