

GEOG 280: MEDICAL AND HEALTH GEOGRAPHY

This course examines concepts of health, globalization, disease, and illness from the perspective of how environment, biology, and society interact to produce and address states of health and disease. Geographic theories and tools, including GIS, will be used to explore course concepts. (SS)

Credits: 5

Prerequisites: Eligible for ENGL& 101 and MATH 090/091; computer literacy.

Program: Geography