

RBIS 103: RB-Integrating Seminar: Writing

This two-credit interdisciplinary writing course is required for second year students in the Reservation-Based AA degree program. The topical focus varies. The course maintains a consistent focus on student development around course learning objectives. (E)

Course Student Learning Outcomes

1. Improve analytical and evaluation writing skills.
2. Improve oral presentation skills.
3. Improve reading skills.
4. Improve research and information literacy skills.
5. Describe significant contemporary issues relevant to Indian Country.
6. Describe alternative solutions to complex issues.
7. Describe complex interdisciplinary issues and different methodological approaches.
8. Demonstrate cognitive flexibility and the ability to understand different points of view.

Credits: 2

Program: Reservation-Based Integrating Seminar